LINC benefits from Centennial Coal Charity Golf Day

The funds raised by the Centennial Coal Charity Golf Day earlier this year continue to benefit local organisations with the Lithgow Information & Neighbourhood Centre (LINC) receiving a defibrillator and first aid kits.

“This generous support will enable us to provide the best possible care to our ageing service users and has equipped us with the most up to date means possible,”

“I am extremely proud of our local men and women who work in our local mines, as they are generous and community minded who always look to help and support organisations such as ours. Without such support our community services would not be able to meet the ever increasing demands of an ageing population,” said Sonia Cox, LINC’s Home and Community Care Manager.

As well as the donation of the first aid equipment, Centennial Coal’s Brett Croucher will provide LINC staff with the required training to operate the first aid equipment.

LINC is a very valuable service to the elderly and disabled in the Lithgow community by providing home and community care services such as social support, community lunches, meals on wheels, home modification, maintenance services and community transport.

The aim of LINC and these services is to assist people to continue living in their own home and provide opportunities for social interaction and respite for their carers.

Proposed upgrade for Western Coal Services

Centennial has recently submitted a briefing paper to the Department of Planning and Infrastructure (DP&I) proposing an upgrade to its’ existing infrastructure at its Western Coal Services site near Blackmans Flat.

This site manages and processes coal to improve its quality prior to rail dispatch, via Centennial’s Lidsdale Siding, for export to overseas markets.

The proposed upgrade will increase the total coal handling capacity of the site to up to 9.5 million tonnes per year and will facilitate the sourcing of coal from other Centennial operations.

“This proposed upgrade will provide Centennial with the market flexibility, new opportunities for future Centennial projects in the local area, will providing

will require approval from the DP&I who will use the information provided in the briefing paper to determine what issues need to be addressed in the Environmental Impact Statement that Centennial will prepare in support of the upgrade works.

Centennial will consult with all relevant stakeholders and if you would like further information please visit the DP&I’s website to view the Springvale Coal Services Upgrade Project Briefing Paper:

Airly Community Information Sessions to start in November

Centennial’s Airly Mine will be holding a series of Community Information Sessions in November to provide community members an update on the Airly Extension Project.

If approved, the extension project will allow Airly to continue its underground mining operations and the upgrade of its existing surface infrastructure. The upgrade will improve Airly’s underground ventilation system and services, support buildings, electrical infrastructure, communications and other services.

“The Community Information Sessions provide us a great opportunity to meet with interested community members and answer any questions they may have regarding the extension project,”

“We’ll have a series of project plans, information flyers and the latest community newsletters to give the community an in-depth look into the future of Airly,” said Centennial’s Greg Brown.

The Community Information Sessions will be held on:

Saturday 3rd November (9am – 1pm) at Capertee Hall, Capertee

Saturday 10th November (9am – 1pm) at Glen Alice Hall, Glen Alice

Saturday 17th November (9am – 1pm) at Wallerawang CWA Hall, Wallerawang

Please call into to any Information Session at the time which is convenient to you.

What do you enjoy most about living in the local area?

I enjoy the weather as we have four proper seasons. I also enjoy the country life without being too far from the bigger cities or the coast.

What do you do in your leisure time?

Most of the year, we follow our kids around the countryside watching hockey or soccer, but whenever possible I try to relax at home in sunny Little Hartley.

Who do you most admire?

My wife – she puts up with a lot.

What is your favourite food?

My favourite food would have to be home made pizza

Which book or movie are you looking forward to reading / seeing?

I am looking forward to getting stuck into The reality of life – Richard Dawkins and seeing the movie of 50 Shades of Grey.
